Due Date for First Installment Tax Bills pushed to April 1

Cook County first installment tax bills are historically mailed around the first of February and are due on March 1. This year, however, tax bills will not be mailed until early March and will be due on April 1.

The state legislature enacted this one-time-only extension to give taxpayers more time between tax bill payments. The due date for last year's second installment bills should have been on August 1, 2025, but was delayed to December 15 because of problems with Cook County's new computer system. Hanover Township Assessor Khaja Moinuddin and the Cook County Township Assessors Association successfully advocated for an extension in Springfield to ease the burden between tax bills.

Hanover Township residents can file an appeal assessment with the Cook County Board of Review online or through the Township Assessor's office for the 2025 tax year. Appeals will be accepted through February 18.

For questions or for appeals assistance, please contact the Hanover Township Assessor's Office at (630) 837-0301 or visit the Town Hall at 250 S. IL Route 59, Bartlett.
